Too late. I'm watching the press conference and everyone is saying it will cost the same.

Non-Responsive

We know that MX is of the view that costs may be higher and that we are exposing the city tax base to this

We have only the rough estimates of equivalency from the chief planner, with little incremental substantiation. We agree on that

Given this, I have asked that we not refer to the projects as costing the same and we not directly offer public assurances of this

In asking that we not get into costs I am seeking to avoid yet another instance of a cost estimation of the fly which is later shown to be incorrect, and potentially by a substantial margin

Rough order of magnitude is a factor of 10, literally

The plan is better, but we do not yet have the information to speak confidently to costs
